For the attention of Justice Ryan McHale

As a concerned citizen my proposals on the reform of the Direct Provision System are as follows.

① Scrap present expensive system and put in place a humane system of housing for those currently in Direct provision

② Ensure access to education and training for all people in the system. Abolish the scandalous treatment of making it impossible for persons and young adults who have their leaving certificates and now cannot pursue further education through their new entitlement⁽²⁾ to obtain a grant for 3rd level.

(3) Harness the expertise of those currently in the system e.g. many speak two or three languages some are Teachers, Doctors, etc. Someone being valued would diminish mental health problems that will otherwise occur.

(4) Educate public re the hardships that these persons have experienced before reaching our shores. i.e. celebrate diversity in peoples of the world.

(5) Amnesty for all currently in system and help to adjust after so long in institutions to independent living.

As a great admirer of playwright Bongin McMahon I am confident that you will look fairly at my proposals.

Finally in a country that has exported its citizens all over the globe since the foundation of the State — it behoves us how to welcome these new people into our country.

To think our government is lobbying in USA to legalise our illegals is irony in the extreme.

Yours sincerely
